What is LifeSmarts?

sumer challenge! LifeSmarts is an educational opportunity that develops the consumer and marketplace knowledge, as well as the skills of South Carolina teens in a fun way and rewards them for this knowledge. The program complements the curriculum already in place in high school and can be used as an activity for classes, groups, club, and community organizations. Teams compete on-line and in state matches, with the state winner going to the nation competition to vie for the national LifeSmarts title.

What does LifeSmarts teach teens?

It teaches teens to be smart and responsible consumers and citizens. The content and competition questions focus on five key area of consumer knowledge that teens need to know to function effectively in today's marketplace. These areas are:

Personal Finance
Health & Safety
Environment
Technology
Consumer Rights & Responsibilities

Who can participate?

LifeSmarts is open to all teens in the 9th – 12th grades. The participation of special needs students, exchange students, alternative schools, work study groups, home school groups, and community organizations is encouraged and welcomed. A team consists of 4 players, an alternate and 1 or 2 adults (1 serves as coach).
